WASHINGTON.

Effect of the Elections Tuesday on the two Houses--Works of the Committees--Comparing Notes--Congress.

WASHINGTON, November 7.—Henry S. Sanford, of Florida, has been selected as Minister to Belgium. This is understood to be upon the recommendation of Senator Conover, who feels that Florida has been long enough neglected.

In correction of a general misapprehension, it is stated that the elections yesterday in New York, Connecticut and Wisconsin, do not affect the U. S. Senatorships, except so far as holding over Senators may control it. A majority in both houses, however, is important in this respect, as the re-districting of the States may have important bearing on the lower houses to be elected next year.

The Committee on Privileges and Elections met, but Hill and Hoar being absent adjourned subject to call by the chairman.

Merrimon made an elaborate argument in favor of Spofford.

HOUSE.—Dr. Poisal has resigned the chaplaincy of the House.

The Committee on Appropriations desired a delay on the army bill, and the repeal of the resumption act is under consideration.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The Star says: "A dispatch from Col. Robert M. Ingersoll's home says, he has been offered the mission to Germany and is now on his way to Washington, to see about it."

The Star also says in its sensational column: "Senators Bayard Maxey, Garland, Gordon, Randolph and Kernan were in the Senate Chamber this morning, comparing notes on the result of yesterday's elections. All of the gentlemen were in good spirits and expressed their entire satisfaction with the manner in which the elections had resulted. It is thought when Senators Hill and Hoar return, the Committee on Elections and Privileges of the Senate will act on the Louisiana Senatorial representation.

HOUSE.—Nothing of public interest took place in the House to-day except the discussion on the bill to repeal the resumption act. The naval deficiency bill was reported by Blount of Georgia, and is to be taken up as soon as the army bill is disposed of.

FRANCE.

President MacMahon's Position--The De Broglie Ministry Withdraw Their Resignation --Sitting of the Deputies at Versailles--M. Grevy President of the Chamber of Deputies.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—A Paris correspondent of the Times, asserts positively that President MacMahon does not approve, and never has approved a coup de tat. He is equally determined not to take a Cabinet from the Left. If he adheres to this resolution his only course is to resign, the correspondent thinks however that the President will consent to take a ministry from the Left.

The official journal announces that the De Broglie ministry at President MacMahon's request, have withdrawn their resignations. They however insist it shall be fully understood that while continuing to discharge their functions this shall in no wise prejudice the President's subsequent decision.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—There was a great crowd at the railway station this evening to witness the departure of the Parliamentary trains for Versailles. President MacMahon started at one o'clock.

VERSAILLES, Nov. 7.—The Senate re-assembled this afternoon and nominations of members of Bureau began. M. Grevy was provisional president of the Chamber of Deputies by a vote of 290 against 170.

M. Grevy is chosen President of the Chamber of Deputies.

Remaud, a Moderate Republican, and Lepere, a Radical Republican, are elected Vice-Presidents.

Grevy, in taking the chair, thanked the Chamber in a brief and colorless speech for the honor. The sitting then terminated.

Rome.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The Reuter telegram from Rome says it is believed that Christmas is the time fixed for the Pope to issue an apostolic letter re-establishing the Catholic hierachy in Scotland.

New York Herald on the Elections.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Herald says, the results of yesterday's election is given herewith in this city and county. The Democrats elect Loew as Register by a majority of about 2500 over the Hess combination consolidate. They also elect State Senators from the 4th, 5th, and probably the 8th districts. Morrissey anti-Tammany elected a Senator from the 7th district by a majority of 3800 over Schell, the regular Tammany candidate.

Goebel, a Republican, was elected to the Senate from the 6th district.

The majority for Beach for Secretary of State was about 27,000 in the county. The State is Democratic by at least 15,000. The Legislature is probably Republican by a very close vote.

General McClellan, (Democrat) is elected Governor of New Jersey by about 13,000 majority. So far as known the Democrats have a sufficient majority in the Legislature to control it.

Indications from Peunsylvania tend to show that the Democrats have overcome the Republican figures of last year, and that their present State ticket is elected by from 10,000 to 12,000 majority. The new labor party polled a large vote and completely upset the calculations of the two regular parties.

Virginia elects the entire Conservative ticket, there being no opposition.

In Connecticut the Republicans retain control of the Legislature, adding several new members to their majority.

Massachusetts is Republican. Rice is re-elected Governor by a plurality of about 13,000. The Council is all Republican again with the exception of one seat. Gaston, the Democratic candidate for Governor, ran behind in Boston, where he was considered to be the strongest.

Partial returns from Wisconsin indicate the election of Smith (Republican) for Governor by an increase over the Republican majority of last year.

Maryland and Mississippi are Democratic. Minnesota and Kansas are Republican.

More of the Burning of Turner's Falls Paper Mill.

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 7.—The original cost the of Keith paper mill burned at Turner'sFalls last night, was over 400,000 dollars. Fire began in the lower story from unknown cause. Part of the machine room, the bleach room and offices were likely to be saved at 9:30 A. M. Loss will be 300,000 dollars, insurance $265,000. The mill was a note-worthy for its superior construction and its perfect adaption to its work. It was unhesitatingly pronounced by experienced paper makers the best mill in the world. The main building was 250 feet deep by 45 feet wide and five stories high, with two L's projecting toward the railroad one 50 by 100 feet and the other 45 by 75 feet. It had capacity of 7 tons daily and employed three hundred hands. Machinery was all of most approved pattern.

Navigation of the Tennessee.

CHATTANOOGA, November 7.—The meeting of citizens to inaugurate measures to establish a weekly line of steamers between Chattanooga and Decatur. Milwaukee county, complete, gives a Democratic majority for governor of 500; Tilden's majority in the same county was 2,045. Only 11 towns have been heard from since last night and they reduce the republican gain 56. Returns from 216 precincts show a Republican gain of 1,050.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Brooklyn Democrats have gained Major James Howell, Jr., in place of the present incumbent, Frederick Schroeder, Republican.

NEWARK, Nov. 7.—The latest returns give McClellan, democrat 12,500 majority. The Legislature is democratic in both Houses.

The Express figures, 15 Democrats, 15 Republicans and two anti-Tammany and Republican combinationists, Morrissey and Goebel. A special to the Commercial advertiser from Albany says: Returns from the interior of the State come slowly. The majority of the Democratic State ticket ranges from 12 to 15,000. The Republicans claim 20 of the 32 Senators and 68 of 128 members of the assembly, which gives them a clear working majority in both houses.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Partial returns from eleven counties out of 66 in Pennsylvania, show a net gain for Noyes, Dem., for State Treasurer, of 2,500 over the vote of last year. The returns indicate a Democratic majority in the State of from 10,000 to 12,000.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Working-men and Greenback candidate for Secretary of State, Junio, seems to have made a heavy run in the Western part of the State. In Syracuse City he received nearly 1,300 votes, while he actually carried Chemung county by 200 to 300 plurality. Chemung went Democratic in 1875 by nearly 900. These facts make Beach's defeat nearly certain.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7.—The Democrats elect the entire Legislative ticket. The only State office voted for was Treasurer. The result in the city was for Keating, Dem., 28,697; for Porter, Rep., 6,398; workingmen's vote trifling.

MEMPHIS, November 7.—Specials from various points in North Mississippi state that the election was very quiet, and, generally, a very light vote was polled, with one exception—Marshall county. The Democratic State ticket has been elected. In Marshall county the contest is very close, with the odds in favor of the Independents.

MILWAUKEE, November 7.—The chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee expresses the opinion that it will take the official canvass to decide the result on the State ticket. 163 towns and precincts give Smith, Rep., 1,500 majority, a net Republican gain of 400.

ATCHISON, KAN., November 7.—The Republicans carry this city by an average majority of about 300. Horton, Rep., for Chief Justice, has a majority of 370, and Humphrey, Rep., for Lieutenant Governor, 210. Glick, Dem., is elected Commissioner in the first district by a small majority. Returns from the county thus far received indicate that the Republican majority will be largely increased.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—26 counties outside of Philadelphia show a Democratic gain of 2,000 over the vote of last year, when the same counties gave Tilden a majority of 10,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—In the complete returns from 15 counties in western Pennsylvania, give a majority of 89 for Noyes over Hart for State Treasurer. The same places gave, last year, a majority of 1,389 for Hayes. Ninety districts of Alleghany county gives Sterrell, Rep., for Supreme Court Judge, a majority of 327 over Bunkey, Dem.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The majority in this city for Beach, Dem., for Secretary of State, will be about 22,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—On the county ticket Hagart, Dem., is elected District Attorney by a majority of 776 over Thayer, Rep. Patterson, Dem., is elected City Controller by 1,620 majority over Saye, Rep.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Gilbert, Dem., for Coroner, has 1,024 majority over Knoor, Rep. The combined Greenback and Labor ticket polled about 5,000 votes in this city.

BROOKLYN, November 7.—Of nine Assemblymen the Democrats have elected six. The Democratic State ticket gets a majority of about 7,000.

TRENTON, N. J., November 7.—McClellan's majority is estimated at 10,000. Both branches of the Legislature is probably Democratic.

NEW YORK, November 7—1:30 A. M.—Returns on the county ticket are still incomplete. The Registership is still in doubt, with the chances in favor of Loew, the Tammany candidate. Tammany has elected 13 out of 21 Assemblymen, and 3 out of the 5 Senators. The Senators elected are: Fourth District, Wagstaff, Tammany; Sixth District, Yoebel, Rep.; Seventh District Morrissey, anti-Tammany; Eighth District, Ecclesive, Tammany.

3 A. M.—The following is the total vote in this city: Beach, Dem., for Secretary of State, 77,188; Churchill, Rep., for Secretary of State, 47,380; Loew, Tammany, for Register, 64,106; Hess, Rep. and anti-Tammany, 60,132.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 7.—210 towns give Smith, Rep., 2,000 plurality over Mallory, Dem., a net Republican gain of 900.

The World estimates the Democratic majority in the State at from 15,000 to 20,000, including the city vote. Olcott's majority at from 45,000 to 50,000. The Senate doubtful—perhaps a tie. The Assembly 8 to 12. The Democratic majority in the city for the State ticket is 30,000 for Beach, and 43,000 for Olcott.

The Tribune estimates that the State has gone Democratic by 15,000 majority. The Senate probably have a Republican majority of 2 and the Assembly will be undoubtedly Democratic.

WARRENTON, Nov. 7th, 1877.

Editor News:

SIR:—The first Inferior Court of Warren county held under the act of the last legislature was opened at the court house on Monday, with Col. Wm. H. Cheek, as chairman, who had associated with him two intelligent justices of the peace. Col. Cheek, the efficient presiding officer of the court, is a lawyer by profession, and delivered an able charge to the grand jury, impressing most forcibly the imperrative duty of the jury ferreting out all offences against the peace and good order of the community, enumerating the various offences against the criminal law of most common occurrence.

There were three negroes on the grand and four on the petit jury. Both juries are noted for intelligence, good character and high standing. Only members of the local bar present.

There were 15 cases on the docket, mainly for larceny. Up to the present every case tried has been convicted. So look out for an increase of 6 or 8 to your stockade hotel from this court.

The county scrip is at par—county out of debt—bridges, public buildings, &c., in fine condition and what is remarkable at this, the county is largely radical in sentiment, yet it has been the invariable custom in all elections of county officers to discount politics and the best men irrespective of party have been elected, a large majority being democrats. The negroes of the county, although in a large majority, have in all county elections shown their good sense and liberality by uniformly voting for the best men and it is mainly to the colored voters that the county is in its present healthy financial condition.

On Tuesday, Col. Polk the commissioner of Agriculture, by invitation, addressed the people in the court-house, and delivered an able, interesting and instructive speech of over an hour's length to a large appreciative audience, which testified their approval of the sentiments of the speaker, by such enthusiasm and cheering as is rarely witnessed in any audience. He reviewed the creation of the department of Agriculture, what it had done, is doing and proposes to do in the future; stated that the object of the Department could not be carried out to the full measure of success contemplated by its creation, without the hearty co-operation of the farmers, by supplying the Museum with specimens for permanent exhibition of each and every product of the county. He stated further that the Department had procured the publication of the Farmer and Mechanic, an agricultural weekly paper, as the official organ of the Department, and advised everybody to subscribe to it. Numbers of the colored people heard the address. The address has been the topic of conversation in all circles, and the universal testimony is, that the speech was just such an one as the farmers needed.

At the conclusion, a resolution was passed, requesting Col. Polk to visit Warrenton at next court and address the people again.

At night the Colonel and your correspondent took tea and spent the evening with H. A. Foote, Esqr., in company with a large number of gentlemen, who gave us such a welcome as only North Carolinians could give.

Before the war the farmers cultivated tobacco and the cerials, and made money. Since the war, up to a few years ago, cotton was substituted for tobacco, and its cultivation continued until the county became well nigh bankrupt. For the past few years the acreage planted in cotton has decreased greatly while tobacco, the cereals, clover, grasses and fruits have increased, and prosperity again dawns on the farmer.

The crops the present year are all fine—the average per acre of cotton being 500 lbs. of seed.

Your correspondent stopped at the Norwood hotel, kept by the polite and gentlemanly proprietor, W. P. Massenbury. The house is strictly first-class, and equals any in the State; the rooms are large, well furnished, and newly carpeted; the beds and fare are unsurpassed.

Story of Actual Life.

[From the Columbia Journal.]

Samuel James, a brilliant young man, and our classmate at college and in the university, had descended from a wealthy and influential family and had every advantage in his scholastic career that wealth and social position could bestow. He took his baccalaureate degree, winning the first honor of his class. His valedictory address gave him great distinction as an orator, scholar and elocutionist. He soon had the degrees of Bachelor of Laws and Master of Arts conferred upon him.

When he returned to his home he was toasted and complimented by the whole community. He was admitted to the bar, and a short time only elapsed before he displayed learning, ability and wonderful oratorical powers. He was complimented by the court and bar, and was pronounced an intellectual prodigy.

He was invited to a banquet, and was the honored guest. He yielded to temptation; and was carried to his room drunk. Next day he appeared in court feeling bad. The older professional gentlemen invited him to the saloon, and he was again made drunk.

He held up, refused the cup, and married Miss Lucine Ragland, the belle of his State, a lovely and accomplished woman, whose wealth was counted by the hundred thousands. At the nuptial party he declined the poisonous cup.

Time wended its way on fleet wings, and in a few years his own large property, and his wife's, were squandered in dissipation, and poverty were descriptive of their condition. He had fallen, and had become a drunkard and gambler in high life.

The fruits of the marriage were three lovely little daughters. The mother, having no parents living, applied to an uncle for assistance, who sent her a few hundred dollars. She told her husband of her uncle's kindness, and woman like, said:

"Husband, take it, do as you please with it, but please promise me that you will not spend it for whiskey or gamble it off at cards. Oh! you do not know how hard it is to be called a drunkard's wife. I have heard it said of me, when passing in the streets, by my old friends, who do not know me."

James fell upon his knees, and cried: "Has my conduct brought my sweet Lucine to this humiliation? I swear, my darling Lucine, my sweet, my lovely wife, that from this hour you shall have a sober and a moral husband. I will never drink another drop or play another card."

In ecstatic pride and joy she threw her arms around him and said: "Poverty will be bliss compared to wealth, if you will but stand up to your vow."

She sent for a friend and repeated in a joyous manner her new hopes of happiness. She asked him to make public his determination, and, at her request, he joined the society of Good Templars. She joined with him.

She is now one of the happiest women in the whole South, and her husband represents a State in the Senate of the United States, and has won again his former honors and renown. Her society is courted now by those who had refused to recognize the drunkard's wife. Her children are at school at Patapsco, Md., where they are admired by all pupils, on account of their brilliant minds and goodness of heart.

FASHION GOSSIP.

A Glance at the Feminine Make up.

The Bird of Paradise, so long tabooed, is again making ladies' hats conspicuous.

Heavily embroidered and beaded overgarments are again coming in style. Last year they were pronounced "horrid."

The most stylish dresses are almost as flat behind as in front; everything clings as closely as human art can make it cling and be graceful.

The polonaise is now either a shortened garment of the princess form, or a coat-like design to serve for the use of heavy suitings worn in the street

In the matter of new bonnets there is no distinct style. There are small cottage shapes and close fitting capotes, and also many large Marie Stuart bonnets, with pointed front and flowing plume.

The majority of the handsomer evening dresses are made in the princess style; others are made in the Louis XIV style, with a train opening over a tablier of drawn satin; this looks particularly well in black velvet and ruby satin.

New apron fronts, for dressy black silks, are made of diagonal bands of embroidered crape, alternating with tulle bands that are also embroidered; the bottom is trimmed with wide thread lace.

The noticeable feature of all imported dresses is the extreme brevity of the skirt in front. The shoe, therefore, plays a most important part in the toilet of the woman of fashion.

WEATHERING THE STORM.

The Gallant Fight of the Cunarder Russia With Wind and Wave--Prayers Said Among the Passengers and a Sacrafice Made to the Angry Sea.

[New York World.]

The Cunarder Russia tied up at her pier, Jersey City, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, after an unusually rough and stormy passage. Although none of the machinery or apparatus of the vessel gave way or was disabled, she was thirteen days from Queenstown to New York, and one day she made only sixty-six miles. One of the crew, who has followed the sea for eleven years, declared he had never known such a storm as that experienced Saturday and Sunday, October 28 and 29.

With ninety-eight passengers, fifty of whom were ladies, the Russia left Queenstown Sunday, October 21. Immediately head winds and high seas were experienced. These increased, and on the 25th the weather became so heavy that the day's progress fell off from 232 knots the day before to 176 knots. The passengers were very generally seasick, only the old stagers appearing at meal time. On the 26th the "fresh gale" had heightened to a "strong gale," and the hitherto angry sea seemed to redouble its fury. As is usual with such tempests on the Atlantic, the storm blew up from the southwest, but veered around to northwest. The daily rate was still further reduced to 105 miles. Saturday of last week, however, was by far the most tempestuous of the voyage. The sky in the morning was overcast with black, heavy clouds, and the ship lurched so under the tremendous force of the gale that the passengers were obliged to keep below. For a brief interval about noon the clouds partially cleared away, and the sun shone down on the troubled sea. Shortly after, however, the sky darkened again, the rain fitfully descended, and very early in the afternoon darkness overspread the waters. A terrific squall succeeded the lull in the gale, and the staunch ship was thrown nearly on her beam ends. The seas repeatedly broke over the decks, and on the main deck the water on the lee side filled the passage between the saloon and the bulwarks, and even found its way through the double windows into the saloon. The spray dashed higher than the mainmast. In the dining saloon the dishes, despite the guards, were thrown from the table violently on the floor, and everything not made perfectly fast went flying. During all that night Captain Cook was on the bridge, devoting his best energies to preserving the life and property in his charge. There was little sleep for crew or passengers. The latter, however, behaved admirably. Some remained on their knees in prayer. A few nuns, who were aboard, sent up on deck about 8 p. m., three "charms" the sailors called them, which they requested should be thrown overboard. This was done. One of the more fearless passengers describes the [illegible] "On this eventful day the progress of the ship was but sixty-six knots. At times the force of her engines was completely overpowered by the severity of the hurricane, and she seemed to be driven backward. However, the good ship Russia has outlived other gales, and she came through this unscathed, without the loss of a man or any of her cargo. On Sunday the storm abated, though the log records strong breezes on the remaining days of the voyage.

A Fair Hit.

[N Y. Journal of Commerce.]

Mr. Erastus Brooks made a capital address Wednesday before the Church Congress on "The Relations of the popular Press to Christianity in America." Among its many good points is the following neat allusion to a well-known class of papers:

The religious press has made wonderful changes, but not always for the better, I fear, since Rev. Increase Mather, as president of Harvard College, wrote his "Churches of Christ in New England Justified," for then even "sundry ministers of the Gospel" labored in vain to find a printer in Boston willing to publish a calm reply to a bold attack. But, be it remembered, what is called progress is not always improvement, and I do not count that moral improvement which, in a religious journal (and I copy from the prospectus of a religious journal), offers sewing machines, dictionaries, church organs and melodeons, life insurance policies, and even church communion services for the largest club of subscribers! A French journal, the Gaulois, sparkling with wine, if not with wit, not to be eclipsed by this religious journal, offered two bottles of champagne for a six month's subscription, and four bottles of the Widow Cliquot for one year! The popular press, not to be eclipsed by all this zeal, proposed for 500 subscriptions a nomination for Congress; for 1,000, a farm in New Jersey, fenced and and mortgaged; for 100, a burial plot, with an order for tombstones delivered when required; for 75, a basswood suit of parlor furniture, and so on down for smaller numbers to marble bureaus with mahogany tops, sewing machines with Agraff attachments, bootjacks, corkscrews, coffee-mills and, finally, almost everything else from bottles of hair dye to boxes of sardines.

Another Conflict of Jurisdiction Case.

[Statesville Landmark.]

"The infamous Ed. Ray, an ex-revenue official, and better known as the outlaw who murdered old man Snider, a peaceful and law-abiding citizen of Ashe county, about a year ago, was arraigned at the late term of Wilkes Superior Court for an assault with intent to commit a rape on a girl twelve years old in Watauga county. The defendant filed an affidavit, and moved that the proceedings be suspended in the State Court until he could make application for a writ of certriorari to remove the case to the Federal Court. Upon the ground that he was a revenue officer at the time the offence was committed, the motion was allowed by the court. Solicitor Cowles immediately appealed to the Supreme Court."

The question naturally arises here, whether the commission of rape or the attempt to commit it, on a girl twelve years old, or any other age, was a part of his duty as a revenue officer; or whether, as a revenue officer, in the performance of any other duty, it was necessary to commit or attempt to commit the act, in order to effectually execute the revenue laws of the United States.

A Flying Dane Exotes.

Some of the Danes who left Denmark if Jersey has any wilds these present Centennial days—one McDaniels dwells, in all the patriarchal comfort and dignity which attach to the English Lord of the Manor. He has a park, a stately mansion, groves of timber, and above all, the most famous racing stables in America. These royal establishments contain some of the finest and fastest horses in the world. Among them is Harry Bassett, a monarch of the turf, who some time ago met with an accident to one of his slender and priceless limbs. Without wasting a moment in doubtful experiments, Mr. McDaniels applied some of Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia, and in a half a day the horse was as sound as the proverbial silver dollar. No wonder McDaniels tells Dr. Giles to send skeptics to interview himself and his horse in Jersey. Pescud, Lee & Co., Agents, Raleigh, N. C.

There is Danger Ahead

When those usually active little organs, the kidneys, are neglectful of their duties and grow sluggish. Fatty degeneration, Bright's disease, diabetes, and other dangerous maladies, are the result of neglect to remedy this inactivity by medicinal means. When the all important functions of the kidneys are imperfectly discharged, those organs need stimulating, and the best possible agent for that purpose—since it performs its office without exciting them—is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which, in combination with its tonic and cathartic properties, possesses valuable qualities as a diuretic. Both kidneys and bladder are strengthened by it, and the vigor which it imparts to them, and the gentle but effectual impulse which it gives to their operations, is the best possible guaranty against their becoming diseased. The Bitters are invaluable in other respects as well as the above, since they remedy general debility, uterine troubles, chills and fever, dyspepsia, constipation, gout, rheumatism, and other ailments.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

The stock of John O'Brien's circus is offered for sale at auction in Richmond, Va.

Col. George P. Kane, the new Mayor of Baltimore, has entered upon the discharge of his duties.

Petersburg Sun: The receipts of the State Fair which closed on Friday last, amounted to $15,000. Thirteen thousand dollars of this amount was realized from the sale of tickets. The receipts for the last day's exhibition was only five hundred dollars.

Pickpockets in Virginia are lashed. The Richmond Enquirer, Nov. 6, says: James E. Tye, charged with picking the pocket of some person unknown last Thursday on a train of cars returning from the Fair Grounds, was before Justice White yesterday, who sentenced him to jail for thirty days and to receive ten lashes.

STATE NEWS.

There is to be a new Presbyterian church erected at Hickory.

The Albemarle Times says a party of gentlemen living near Belvidere, Perquimans county, killed fifteen bears in two days. Pretty good hunting, that.

Thaddeus Moore, of Point Caswell, was drowned off a boat at Wilmington, [illegible] sleep.

We learn from the Oxford Free Lance that Mr. Henry Frazier of Townsville township Granville county, had the misfortune to lose a barn of tobacco on Thursday night last. No insurance.

Hillsboro Recorder: The Orange Guards made its first parade in uniform on Tuesday a week ago, and attracted much attention by its beautiful uniform and accurate movements. We have seen no Company more perfect in its drill with the same advantages of practice.

Albemarle Times: Mr. Joseph Willoughby, residing about nine miles from Edenton, is raising large quantities of the very best green tea. The quality of the tea has been tested by numbers; in fact the difference cannot be told from imported tea, when placed in cups beside each other.

Oxford Free Lance: The family of T. B. Kingsbury Esq., left for their future home in Wilmington on Tuesday last, carrying with them the best wishes of a large circle of friends and acquaintences. The old homestead has been rented by Mr. W. R. Beasley, who, we understand will move in very soon.

Oxford Free Lance: His Honor, Judge McKoy has given general satisfaction by the prompt, able and impartial manner in which he is discharging the duties of his high position. It is really a source of great gratification to the people of Granville to see such a Judge presiding once more in their courts.

Statesville Landmark: Hiram Privitt, the United States Deputy Marshal who cut such a wide swath at the late term of Federal Court in this place, now reposes in the Wilkes county jail. He was convicted of f. and a., at the Fall term of the Superior Court for that county, and sentenced to thirty days imprisonment. Verily, Hiram was a shining light in Wilkes radicalism.

Statesville Landmark: James Clark was convicted of murder in the first degree last week at Wilkes Superior Court. The murder was committed by the stabbing of one Birchett, some time in last March. Judge Cloud, thinking the testimony did not warrant so severe a penalty as that of death, set aside the verdict, and allowed the prisoner to submit for man-slaughter, whereupon he was sentenced to ten years penal servitude.

Statesville Landmark: During the late term of Wilkes county Superior Court, Spears was arraigned for the murder of Parsons, and Clark for the murder of Burchett. All the parties were white. Both murders were committed on the same Sabbath, in different sections of the county. The difficulties both grew out of the same cause—wrestling. All the parties directly involved in the difficulties were intoxicated. This is indeed a strange coincidence.

Two weeks since, says the Statesville Landmark, Mr. Henry Stikeleather, a thrifty and energetic farmer of Alexander county, came to this place to attend the stupendous humbug known as "Cole's Circus," with a large amount of money in his possession. He was enticed into the "side show" by sharpers and swindled out of every cent he had in his possession and all he could borrow from his friends. Soon after the loss of his money he became very much depressed in spirits. He is now a raving maniac in the Alexander county jail.

All idea of adjourning the extra session much, if any, before the beginning of the regular session seems to have been abandoned. Indeed, it is hardly possible now to effect an adjournment before the last of the month.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION—REVIEW OF THE CONTESTS, AND STATUS OF PARTIES.

Elections were held on Tuesday in the States of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Kansas, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Wisconsin. Those in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin are generally regarded with most interest, but not far behind these come Massachusetts and Minnesota. In Mississippi and Virginia there was practically no contest, the Democrats having the field left to them uncontested.

In New York State officers were chosen consisting of Secretary of State, Controller, Treasurer, Attorney General, and Engineer and Surveyor. The Republicans and the Democrats had complete tickets in the field, headed respectively by John C. Churchill and Allen C. Beach. Besides these were candidates nominated by the German American Independents, the Prohibitionists, the Greenbackers, the Working Men, and the Bread Winners, some of these adopting candidates from one or the other of the two leading parties. The vote of the State in recent years has been as follows:

Year.	Office.	Republican.	Democratic.	Prohibition	Greenback.
1876	Presid't	489,207	521,949	2,359	1,987
1876	Govern'r	489,371	519,931	3,412	1,436
1875	Control'r	376,150	389,709	9,494	.....
1874	Govern'r	366,074	416,391	11,768	.....
1872	Presid't	440,745	387,221	201	.....

The last Legislature was thus divided politically, and the figures are of interest as both branches were elected Tuesday.

	Senate	House	Joint Ballot.
Republicans	19	71	90
Democrats	13	57	70
Republican majority	6	14	20

New Jersey elected its Governor, one-third of its Senate, and all of its Assembly. For Governor the Republicans nominated ex-Gov. Wm. A. Newell; the Democrats, Gen. Geo. B. McClellan; the Prohibitionists, Rudolphus Bingham, and the Greenbackers, Thomas D. Hoxsey. The vote of the State in recent years has been:

In Connecticut the election was for Senators from the odd-numbered districts, 11 in number, and the full House of Representatives. Sheriffs were also chosen in the several counties. The last Legislature was politically composed as follows:

	Senate.	House.	Joint Ballot.
Republicans	11	141	152
Democrats	10	105	115

of the State officers, and its Legislature, upon which will devolve the selection of a United States Senator, in place of Hon. George R. Dennis, whose term expires in 1879. For Controller the Republicans nominated Gabriel Ellis Porter, and the Democrats Thomas J. Keating. The vote of the State in recent years has been:

Year.	Office.	Republican.	Democratic.
1876	President	71,990	91,779

1873	Controller	59,668	79,651

The last Legislature was politically composed as follows:

Republicans	7	26	33
Democrats	19	58	77
Dem. majority	12	32	44

Kansas elected its Lieutenant-Governor and the Chief Justice of its Supreme Court, to fill vacancies. For these offices the Republican State Committee nominated L. U. Humphrey and Albert H. Horton. The Democratic State Committee nominated Thomas W. Watterson and William R. Wagstaff. A Greenback ticket was also in the field, composed of D. B. Hadley for Lieutenant-Governor, and Samuel Riggs for Justice of the Supreme Court. The vote of the State in recent years has been:

Year.	Office.	Republican.	Democratic.
1876	President	78,322	37,902
1876	Governor	69,078	46,204
1874	Governor	48,794	35,807

Massachusetts chose its Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Auditor, and Attorney-General, eight Executive Councillors, both branches of the Legislature, and various minor officials. A vote was also to be taken upon the acceptance of a proposed act relating to city Boards of Health, and upon an amendment to the Constitution of the State, making the President, Professors, and instructors in Harvard College eligible to seats in the Legislature, whence they are now excluded by that Constitution. For the State officers there were five tickets in the field. The Republicans nominated Gov. Alexander H. Rice for re-election; the Democrats named ex-Gov. William Gaston; the Prohibitionists, Hon. R. C. Pitman, and the Labor Reformers, Wendell Phillips. Mr. Phillips was also the candidate heading the "Greenback and Working Men's Ticket." The vote of the State in recent years has been:

Year.	Office.	Repub.	Dem.
1876	President	150,063	108,777
1876	Governor	137,665	106,850
1875	Governor	83,639	78,333
1874	Governor	89,344	96,376

The last Legislature was politically divided as follows:

	Senate.	House.	Joint Ballot.
Republicans	33	178	211
Democrats	7	62	69
Repub majority	26	116	142

Minnesota elected Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Attorney-General and Railroad Commissioner. For these there were four full tickets in the field—the Republican, headed by John S. Pillsbury, who was a candidate for re-election as Governor; the Democratic, headed by William L. Banning; the Prohibition, headed by A. Willy, and the Greenback, which was headed by William L. Banning, the Democratic candidate for Governor. Six proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State were to be voted upon. Three of them are designed to establish biennial sessions of the Legislature; one gives women the right to vote upon the question of prohibition or license the sale of liquor; the fifth prohibits the appropriation of public moneys for the support of sectarian schools; and the sixth provides that each stockholder in any corporation shall be liable for all unpaid installments on stock owned by him, or transferred for the purpose of defrauding creditors. The vote of the State in recent years has been as follows:

Year.	Office.	Republican.	Democratic.
1876	President	72,962	48,799
1875	Governor	47,041	35,174
1873	Governor	49,761	35,242

The members of the Legislature were also chosen. The last Legislature was politically composed as follows:

	Senate.	House.	Joint Ballot.
Republicans	26	77	103
Democrats	15	29	44
Rep. majority	11	48	59

Mississippi elected its Governor and members of the Legislature, and voted upon two proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State. One of these amendments is designed to abolish the office of Lieutenant-Governor; the other provides for biennial sessions of the Legislature. For Governor the only candidate in the field was John M. Stone, the present Democratic incumbent. The vote of the State in recent years has been as follows:

Year.	Office.	Repub'n.	Dem.
1876	President,	52,605	112,173
1875	Treasurer,	66,155	96,596
1872	Governor,	73,324	52,887

The last Legislature was politically composed as follows:

	Senate.	House.	Joint Ballot.
Republicans,	11	19	30
Democrats,	26	97	123
Dem. maj.,	15	78	93

Nebraska elected a Justice of its Supreme Court and two Regents of the State University, to fill vacancies. For Judge the Republicans nominated George B. Lake, and the Greenbackers John D. Howe. The vote of the State in recent years has been as follows:

Year.	Office.	Republican.	Democratic.
1876	President	31,916	17,554
1876	Governor	29,947	17,719
1875	Judge	31,377	15,106
1874	Governor	21,568	8,946

Pennsylvania elected its Supreme Judge for a term of 21 years, Auditor for three years, and Treasurer for two years. For these offices there were four tickets in the field, the Republicans nominating James P. Sterrett for Judge, William B. Hart for Treasurer, and John A. M. Passmore for Auditor; the Democrats naming John Trunky for Judge, Amos C. Noyes for Treasurer, and William P. Schell for Auditor; the [illegible] nating Benjamin S. Bentley for Judge, James L. Wright for Treasurer, and James E. Emerson for Auditor; and the Prohibitionists naming A. H. Winton for Judge, Samuel Cornett for Treasurer, and A. A. Barker for Auditor. The vote of the State in recent years has been as follows:

Year.	Office.	Republican.	Democratic.
1876	President	384,122	366,158
1875	Governor	304,175	292,145
1874	Lt.-Gov.	272,516	277,195

Virginia made a change of its Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, and Attorney General, and elected the members of its Legislature. For the State offices only one ticket was in nomination, and that was run by the Democrats. This was made up of Col. Frederick W. M. Holliday for Governor, Gen. James A. Walker for Lieutenant Governor, and Gen. James G. Field for Attorney-General. The vote of the State in recent years has been as follows:

Year.	Office.	Republican.	Democrat.
1876	President,	95,558	139,670
1873	Governor,	93,499	120,738
1872	President,	93,466	91,654

The last Legislature was politically divided as follows, six "Independents" in the House being here counted with the Democrats:

	Senate.	House.	Joint Ballot.
Republicans	6	25	31
Democrats	37	107	144
Dem. majority	31	82	113

Wisconsin elected its Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Attorney-General, and Superintendent of Public Instruction, and also its Legislature. For the State offices there were five tickets in the field. For Governor the Republicans nominated William E. Smith; the Democrats James A. Mallory; the Prohibitionists C. F. Hammond; the Greenbackers Edward P. Allis, and the "Social Democrats" Colvin M. Campbell. Two proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State were to be voted upon. One increases the number of Supreme Court Judges from three to five; the other limits to six years the time for auditing claims against the State. The vote of the State in recent years has been:

Year.	Office.	Republican.	Democratic
1876	President,	130,068	123,927
1875	Governor,	85,155	84,314
1873	Governor,	66,223	81,635

The last Legislature was politically divided as follows:

	Senate.	House.	Joint Ballot.
Republicans	22	61	83
Democrats,	11	39	50
Repub. maj'ty,	11	22	33

The results as so far ascertained are full of encouragement for the Democrats. Everywhere they have gained. The most significant features of the contests are the loss of Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey to the Republicans; the closeness of the contest in Wisconsin and Massachusetts, and the complete break down of the Republican party in Virginia and Mississippi, their organizations even having been abandoned. With these elections the political season practically closes, though the people of Georgia will vote in December. The Republican party is at last in a decided minority, without the hope of an early resuscitation. Our party has now all the power necessary to lay the foundations for victory in 1880, and fix firmly then the capstone to our arch of triumph.

An Open Letter to the Public.

NEW YORK, October 1, 1877.

I have devoted twenty years of patient study to the Liver and its relations to the human body, in search of a remedy which would restore it, when diseased, to its normal condition. The result of that labor has been the production of

TUTTT'S LIVER PILLS.

Their popularity has become so extended and the demand so great as to induce unscrupulous parties to counterfeit them, thereby ROBBING ME of the reward, and the afflicted of their virtues.

To Caution the Public and protect them from vile impositions, have adopted a new label, which bears my trade-mark and notice of its entry in the Office of the Librarian of Congress, also my signature, thus:

Dr. Tutt M. D.

☞ TO COUNTERFEIT THIS IS FORGERY. ☜

Before purchasing, examine the label closely.

THE GENUINE TUTT'S PILLS

exert a peculiar influence on the system. Their action is prompt, and their good effects are felt in a few hours. A quarter of a century of the study of the Liver has demonstrated that it exerts a greater influence over the system than any other organ of the body, and when diseased the entire organism is deranged. It is specially for the healing of this vital organ that I have spent so many years of toil, and having found the remedy, which has proved the greatest boon ever furnished the afflicted. Shall they be deprived of its benefits, and a vile imitation imposed upon them?

Let the honest people of America see to it that they are not defrauded. Scrutinize the label closely, see that it bears all the marks above mentioned, and buy the medicine only from respectable dealers. It can be found everywhere. Very respectfully,

W. H. TUTT.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT

I am only billious, says the debilitated victim of sick headache, pain in the right side, constriction of the bowels, and hypochondria. Are these trifles then? No; unchecked they lead to mental disease. And yet as surely as dawn dispels the darkness, Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient will remove them. Try it.

A Perfect Day.

Go, glorious day!
Here while you pass I make this sign:
Earth swinging on her silent way,
Will bear me back unto this hour divine,
And I will softly say: Once thou wert mine.

Wert mine, O, perfect day!
The light unknown, soaring from sea and shore,
The forest's eager blaze,
The flaming torches that the autumn bore,
The fusing sunset, seas, when storms were o'er.

"Were mine the brooding airs,
The pulsing music of the weedy brooks,
The jeweled fishes and the mossy lairs
Wherein shy creatures, with their free bright looks,
Taught blessed lessons never found in books.

"All mine the peace of God.
When it was joy enough to breathe and be
The peace of Nature oozing from her sod,
When face to face with her the soul was free,
And far the false, wild strife it faint would flee."

Stay, beauteous day!
Yet why pray I? Thy lot, like mine, to fade;
Thy light, like yonder mountain's golden haze,
Must merge into the morrow's misty shade,
And I an exile in the alien street,
Still gazing back, yearn towards the vision fleet.

"Once thou wert mine!" I'll say,
And comfort so my heart as with old wine.
Poor pilgrims! oft we walk the self same way,
To weep its change, to kneel before the shrine;
The heart once builded to a happy day,
When dear it died. I'll say "Thou day divine,
Life presses sore, but once, once thou wert mine."

—Mary Clemmer, in National Union.

NEWS NOTES.

Senator Matt. Ransom, of North Carolina, is related to Gen. John A. Logan, says the Washington Union.

Fifty thousand people are said to have viewed the remains of Senator Morton while lying in State at Indianapolis.

Frisco Mail: Since Josh Billings saw this imitation of his peculiar style, he wants to be a Republican candidate in Ohio, or an old gate post, or something of that sort: "Doant karry aigs in your cottale pocket. Aigs aint good after they've been sot on awhile."

Suleiman Pasha is a vigorous disciplinarian. If he gives orders to one of his subordinate commanders to take a certain position, it has to be taken. If the man fails Suleiman Pasha calls for a guard and has the General's uniform stripped off, and sometimes even has him shot on the spot.

Senator Morton's death will compel a reorganization of the committees of the Senate. A new head will have to be selected for the committee on Privileges and Elections, which has become doubly important because of the Louisiana contests and the relative strength of both parties in the Senate.

It is eighteen hundred and odd years since St. Paul wrote to one Timothy, "I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence." And now as many as twenty-nine women are advertised in the Chicago papers as conducting religious services and preaching on a single Sunday.

Gold goes down, down, down. One reason for the decline in the premium is apparent in the report just printed by the San Francisco Bulletin on the bullion product of the principal mines of the Pacific coast during the nine months ending September 30, 1877. The value of the bullion produced—nearly half of it gold—is $36,023,700.

The late Senator Morton is said to have read newspapers more than books. He often felt the want of a more general acquaintance with literature, but never pretended to knowledge he didn't possess, nor was unwilling to ask for information. His favorite poetry was "Paradise Lost." He was a firm believer in revelation, but once said to the friend who was with him in Europe that he was afraid to investigate the sources of his belief, or to subject it to the attacks of an acute and well-informed skeptic. On his death-bed he said, as well as he could for his failing breath, that he had tried to live right, which was the only accepted preparation for death, or words to that effect. He had much veneration. He once said that he did not approve of sacred allusions in political speeches.

Rev. John P. Newman, in a memorial sermon on Senator Morton, said: He died a poor man, but he was not a christian. He had declared to the pastor not long before his death that he believed in a God and in the immortality of the soul, yet he was not prepared to fully accept the dogmas of the christian faith. His intense application to the affairs of State prevented him from giving to the destiny of his soul the thought that was necessary to establish him in the graces of the christian religion. He could not ascribe his failure to become a christian to the fear felt by some public men that their profession would be charged against them as an expedient to gain political advantage, yet he regretted to say that there were newspaper men and politicians mean enough to make charges against a sincere convert to the faith of Jesus Christ.

Infantry of the French Army.

The field exercise instructions of the French infantry have been recently completed by the issue of the Ecole de Brigade, a small book of only 36 pages, containing, as the name implies, the regulations for the movements and manœuvring of a brigade. A division of infantry in the French Army, consists of two brigades, each of two regiments; each of these latter again placing three battalions of about 1,000 men each in the field. The average length of front to be occupied by such a division in the line of battle is fixed at 1,500 metres, giving about 8 or 10 men to every metre of front. The whole division is to be formed for action in two lines, but the first line is to have its own special reserve this latter, therefore, forming an intermediate body between the first and proper second line. In the normal disposition, four of the 12 battalions of which the division consists are to be in the front fighting line, two are to form the above mentioned special reserve, and the remaining six the second line, or general reserve. Three alternative methods are given in the newly-issued instructions for the distribution of the division in this formation. In the first place, each of its two brigades may form a line; the one the first or fighting line with its special reserve, the other the second or reserve line; secondly, the two brigades may be drawn up side by side, each having a regiment in the first and a regiment in the second line; or, thirdly, the whole four regiments may be arrayed side by side, the battalions of each standing one behind the other.

The Godwin
AGRICULTURAL ENGINE
AND SAFETY BOILER WAS AWARDED THE

FIRST Premium at Roanoke & Tar River Agricultural Society, 1875. The Gold Medal, over all other Competitors, at the North Carolina State Fair, in 1876.

It is the most perfect and economical in use. The Boiler is of new design, being vertical, yet all the heating surface is entirely covered with water, thus preventing the fire from destroying the tubes as is the case, in a few years, in all upright tubular boilers in which the fire passes through the tubes above the water line, soon destroying the exposed end of the tubes causing them to leak.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Abstracts of taxes were received at the Auditor's office yesterday from the registers of Gaston and Wayne counties.

——When, where and by whom erected, did the first gas light ever throw its illuminating influence on the benighted city of Raleigh?

——Licenses were issued from the State Treasurer's office yesterday to Mudge & Trust, and Penniman & Bro., of Baltimore, to drum in the State.

——Grand Secretary Bain issues notice to-day of the 91st annual communication of the Masonic Grand Lodge of North Carolina, with railroad terms, &c. See the notice.

——Madame Venus is getting frisky; to-night she will be in confab with Luna, to-morrow night she will be flirting with Jupiter. The almanac makers call it being in conjunction.

Gov. Vance arrived in the city this morning from a trip to Charlotte and to Morganton and Henry Station, where he went to look after the fish planting in the streams in that locality.

——The county commissioners met again yesterday at the court house, and spent the day in auditing accounts and arranging allowance for such county pensioners as get relief outside the county poor house. They will meet again to-day.

——Col. Polk went to Warrenton on Tuesday and made an agricultural address before the intelligent farmers of that grand old county, and came back the best pleased man that has passed over the railroad in a coon's age. The Colonel will leave to-day for a short visit to his home in Wadesboro.

Tea Culture.

Some of our exchanges mention the fact that in more instances than one the cultivation of the genuine tea plant has been successfully attempted in the eastern part of this State. Not far from Raleigh a lady who does intelligently whatever she attempts to do, some years ago procured a dozen tea shrubs and set them out, and they are now in a flourishing condition. She for some time had difficulty in properly curing the leaves for use, and perhaps, also missed it in regard to the proper stage of growth to gather them, but her last crop is splendid. We have had the pleasure of testing the flavor and quality of a few cups of tea made from the North Carolina grown shrub, and we give it as our opinion that it is equal to the best imported tea we ever drank, and that the veriest group of gossips in the country would grow charitable in their "tea-table talk," if the board were furnished with such tea as this.

Justice's Court Yesterday.

Before C. D. Upchurch J. P., the State and Sarah V. Jernigan, against Calvin B. Jernigan on a peace warrant was heard. Some ugly testimony was given to showing that the defendant had used heavy threats against his wife, tried to shoot her and used other means to put her in mortal fear. He was held to bail in a justified bond of $500 to appear next week to answer before the Criminal Court.

State against J. W. B. Watson for keeping an unlawful fence around his farm; held in a bond of $100 to answer at court.

State against Tony Burns for removing crop from rented land before payment of rent, was postponed for a hearing on Saturday next.

Attempt to Escape from Jail.

Yesterday when Mr. Syd. Bryant, the jailer, went into the prison, accompanied by the cook, to give the prisoners their meal, having unlocked the cell door in which Allen Holloway, in jail on a charge of attempting to rob J. C. Ray, that scamp pushed by the cook and attempted to make his escape. Mr. Bryant seized him and a severe struggle ensued. Mr. J. J. Ferral, who happened to be passing near and hearing the noise, came to the rescue, and the two, with some assistance from two other prisoners, confined Holloway and returned him to the cell, but he resisted and fought to the last until the shackles were put upon him.

Arrival of Convicts.

W. C. Threadgill, deputy sheriff of Anson county, brought eight convicts to the penitentiary yesterday—all colored and all for larceny: Milly Smith, three years; Anderson Ratliff, six years; Jeff. Ratliff, three years; George Richardson, two years; Alfred Edwards, five years; Wesley Evans, two years; Henry Winston, one year, and Green Wall, five years; the last named is seventy-three years old.

D. A. Grantham, sheriff of Wayne, brought in on Tuesday, three convicts, all colored, all for larceny, and sentenced to two years each. Thus two counties in two days have sent to the penitentiary an aggregate of labor equal to that of one man thirty-three years.

Tour of Inspectors.

The Examining Committee of the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company, left Richmond on Tuesday last at 8 A. M., for the purpose of making their annual tour of inspection. Col. Talcott, Gen. Lift, Sol. Haas, Esq., General Freight Agent, accompany the Committee. Col. A. B. Andrews, Superintendent of North Carolina Railroad joined the party at Greensboro yesterday. A special train with the committee will reach Raleigh about noon to-day and go thence to Goldsboro.

Mayor's Court.

John Brown, charged with stealing a lot of valuable jewelry from a lady of this city, had a preliminary examination and, the evidence sustaining the charge, John Brown's soul, and body too, went marching along to jail in default of a justified bond of $500 to meet the charge at the Criminal Court.

N. V. Denton, for rough handling a saucy darkey, was fined $5 and costs.

And this was all at the Mayor's Court.

Going to the Fayetteville Fair.

We learn that the Raleigh Combination Minstrel Troupe and Brass Band intend giving a series of entertainments at Fayetteville during the Fair next week. We can assure our Fayetteville friends that they may rely upon this being one of the best companies of the kind now out. They are good artists and clever fellows, and their entainments are free from disgusting vulgarity and low slang. We bespeak for them a welcome and full patronage.

BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION

First Day--Morning Session.

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 7. 1877.

The Baptist State Convention of North Carolina met in annual convention at this place this morning.

The body was called to order by Rev. W. M. Kennedy, of Magnolia, 1st Vice-President.

Religious exercises were conducted by Rev. C. Durham, Pastor of Durham Baptist Church.

Prayer by Rev. Theo. Whitfield, of Charlotte.

The President then congratulated the delegation on their assembling, and upon the prosperity of the denomination in the State, and then announced the convention ready for business.

The delegates were then enrolled.

On motion of Rev. W. B. Harrell of Hillsboro, the election of President was then gone into.

Rev. W. B. Harrell and Rev. A. D Cohen were appointed as tellers.

After balloting the tellers announced Judge John W. Kerr, as elected President for the ensuing year.

On motion a committee was appointed to nominate the remaining officers, with the exception of corresponding secretary.

On taking his seat, the President, Judge Kerr, thanked the convention for the honor conferred and said he always felt proud of favors shown by his brethren in the Lord. He exhorted the brethren to be earnest in prayer for guidance from God and for his blessing on the convention. He hoped that we would return some thanking God for what we had done, and have no regrets for the past.

The committee to nominate the remaining officers reported as follows:

Vice-Presidents—Major W. A. Graham, Rev. R. R. Savage and W. B. Clements.

Secretary—Rev. J. D. Hufham.

Assistant Secretary—Captain Wm. Biggs.

Treasurer—John G. Williams.

Auditor—Major W. W. Vass.

The sessions of the body were fixed as follows: Meet at 9 a. m., adjourn at 12 m; meet at 2 p. m., and adjourn at will; meet at 7 p. m., and adjourn at will.

A half-hour was then spent in devotional exercises.

On motion a committee on finance was appointed as follows: W. A. Graham, E. Frost and J. S. Allen.

Visiting brethren were welcomed as follows: Rev. F. M. Jordan, Rev. Dr. John Mitchell, Rev. S. M. Collis and Bro. C. C. Lee, of the Western Baptist Convention.

On motion the President appoited the usual committees.

The State Mission Board then reported.

On motion that portion of the report that relates to Foreign Missions was made special order for Friday night.

The remainder was made special order for to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The report of the Sunday School Board was then read.

On motion the recommendations of the report were referred to a committee of five with instructions to report on Friday morning.

The report of the Woman's Mission Central Committee was then read.

The body then took recess for dinner.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Convention called to order at 2. p. m.

Rev. C. Durham offered a resolution appointing a committee of nine to inquire into the following propositions: "An Evangelist, what is his work? If the office of an Evangelist scriptually exists, and there is a demand for such work in our State, who of this body are suitable and available men for such work; and what connection, if any, should they officially sustain to this Convention.

The president appointed Revs. Theo. Whitfield, T. H. Pritchard, W. M. Wingate, J. B. Taylor, R. R. Savage, T. H. Jones, John Mitchell, N. B. Cobb and R. H. Marsh, as the committee.

The President announced the following committees:

On recommendation of the Sunday School Board.—N. B. Broughton, E. Frost, J. B. Boone, J. B. Taylor and B. Oliver.

On time and place of next session.—J. B. Marsh, W. H. Lawhon and J. A. Stradley.

To nominate preachers for next session.—R. P. Thomas, H. A. Reams and Jno. Armstrong.

On Periodicals.—Revs. T. H. Pritchard, S. M. Collis and R. H. Moody.

To nominate Board of Missions.—Rev. F. H. Ivey, P. A. Dunn and N. B. Cobb.

On Obituaries.—W. M. Kennedy, A. C. Dixon, John Mitchell.

To nominate Board of Education.—L. R. Mills, Revs. A. L. Stough and F. H. Jones.

On Religious Exercises.—Pastor and Deacons of Durham church.

Rev. R. H. Moody made a statement in regard to the meeting house in Morganton, that there was a debt of $180 due on it, covered by a mortgage on the church.

After some explanation of the matter, a collection was raised amounting to $43.06.

Rev. J. B. Turpin, of Danville, Va., was recognized and welcomed.

The report of the treasurer was submitted and adopted.

The convention then adjourned.

NIGHT SESSION.

At night Rev. F. H. Ivey, of Goldsboro, preached the introductory sermon, taking as his text 1 Cor. 1:18. Subject: "The Cross of Christ the Power of God." Shown, 1st. In the magnitude of the work which the cross is accomplishing among men. 2d. In the mysteriousness of its operations. 3d. By the manner of its operations. It was a sermon of great power.

REMARKS.

The hospitality of the growing and thrifty city is all that occasion has so far demanded or suggested and all seem happy and joyous.

The delegation is very large for the first day. B.

Personal.

There were registered at the Yarbrough House last night, on their way to the Baptist Convention, Rev. James A. Munday and Messrs. John Watson and N. M. Norwood, of Warrenton.

Important Notice.

The Secretary of the N. C. Agricultural Society respectfully requests all persons to whom premiums have been awarded to call at the office to-day or to-morrow, and obtain orders for the same, giving their receipts. Most of the premiums have been delivered, and it is earnestly requested that the remainder be called for, if desired.

Another Opportunity.

The auction sale of China, &c., at Law's establishment yesterday, drew quite a crowd of buyers. As we said, purchasers have every reason to be satisfied with their bargains.

Mr. Laws will have another sale of goods to-night at 7 o'clock. Comfortable seats will be furnished ladies who may attend. *

Who is He?

The Durham Tobacco Plant, in alluding to the escape of the negro Boswell, who was arrested under a charge of murdering Nannie Blackwell and her two children near Durham, and afterward burning the house and bodies to escape detection, brings a grave charge against somebody, and the name of that somebody the editor proposes to give to the public at the proper time. Says the Plant:

"He was aided in making his escape from Raleigh by a citizen of that place, a man of immense wealth, and who knew that Boswell was suspected of committing the murder. This offence is equal to the crime of Boswell, and as soon as the facts are fully developed we intend to publish the name of the party and a full and complete history of the transaction."

This is a very grave charge, and we hope, for the reputation of our city and for the sake of common humanity and justice, that it is not made without very certain grounds on which to base it. Or rather, perhaps, we should say, that we hope no such grounds exist. But if they do, by all means let them come out, for no consideration of wealth or social influence should screen one from the just censure which such an act deserves.

Grand Lodge of North Carolina.

OFFICE GRAND SECRETARY,
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov 7th, 1877.

The Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina will commence its Ninety-First Annual Communication at its hall, in this city, on Tuesday, 4th of December next, at 7 o'clock, P. M.

Return tickets can be obtained by officers and representatives on application, over the railroads, &c., at the rates mentioned—six cents per mile for the round trip over the following:

Atlantic and North Carolina; Seaboard and Roanoke; Raleigh and Gaston; Raleigh and Augusta Air-Line; Wilmington and Weldon; Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta; Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta; Richmond and Danville, North Carolina Division; Northwestern North Carolina; Piedmont; Charlotte and Atlanta Air-Line.

For one first-class fare over the Western North Carolina; Western (from Fayetteville) Carolina Central, and Dismal Swamp Canal, representatives traveling over Carolina Central must exhibit their credentials to agents when they apply for tickets.

Round trip tickets will be issued on the Atlantic, Tennessee and Ohio Railroad at seven cents per mile. It is specially suggested that return tickets over all the routes mentioned are necessary to prevent the payment of full fare.

D. W. BAIN,
Grand Secretary.

A Run-Away and Smash-Up.

Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock a horse belonging to Messrs. Kelly, Purifoy & Brewer, hitched to a one-horse wagon, while standing in front of the old Adams foundry became frightened at something and dashed off at full speed toward his stable on Martin Street, between Wilmington and Blount. Reaching Salisbury Street he turned north to Martin and thence up that street at a tearing rate. Before reaching Fayetteville Street the hind wheels and running works attached became detached and the horse went on with the front wheels and shafts. Just East of Fayetteville Street he ran against the saddle horse of Mr. Alonzo Mial and knocked him down and the piece of wagon striking him, turned him completely over. After this he made a straight stretch for Berry's livery stable where he is kept and, running against a post at the door, broke loose from the remaining fragment of the wagon and dashed into his stall. Crowded as the streets were through which he passed, it is wonderful no serious damage was done. Mr. Mial's horse was scratched and bruised a little but was able to travel as soon as he got up and recovered from his astonishment.

The driver had carelessly left the horse standing at the foundry door while he stepped inside for something.

A Card.

EDITOR DAILY NEWS:

We beg leave through the columns of the DAILY NEWS, to tender our sincere thanks to those kind friends, who on Monday and Tuesday nights, gave us such a delicious 'Pounding.' In these hard times it is really delightful to have our friends pound us with sugar and coffee, bacon and lard, meal and flour, butter and cheese, pickles and preserves, buckwheat and potatoes and crackers, cakes, candies, cabbages, &c.

We value the sympathy and love which prompted their "Pounding" more than the pounds themselves. May God bless the donors.

L. S. BURKHEAD and Wife.

Cotton Yesterday.

There was a little better feeling in cotton yesterday; the receipts were very good. The prices of Tuesday were sustained, and late in the day some lots changed hands at 10 cents for middling.

Be on time, for prevention is better than cure. All Coughs and Colds and such affections of the throat and lungs as lead to consumption are cured by Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cents.

Brewster has a fine assortment of Lamp goods, he is selling a great many in Raleigh and elsewhere, he has just shipped a magnificent white metal chandelier for the residence of Mr. H. A. Reams in Durham. Call and see his stock.

When we step in to see Brewster we are always surprised to see how busy he is. Every one says the reason is because he is selling goods so cheap.

Don't You Want One?
